DETAILED ACTION

1. This action is responsive to the amendments filed April 29, 2008.
2. The object to claim 8 is withdrawn in view of Applicant's amendments.
3. Claims 1-8 and 10-21 have been examined, and all remained pending claims now are being allowed (renumbered 1-20).

Examiner's Statement of Reasons for Allowance

4. As Applicants pointed out in the Remarks, the prior art of record (PEX-Feb02, PEX-Sep02, and Yami) do not disclose and/or fairly suggest, at least, claimed limitations in independent claim 1 "...for analyzing messages crafted in natural language for an end user of a computer program, wherein the message analysis criteria identifies at least one computer program component, at least one properties file and a predetermined time period to identify specific messages for analysis, wherein the message analysis criteria is designated through a criteria interface, wherein the message analysis criteria determines lingual metrics corresponding to the messages for computing estimates of lingual translations of each of the messages...", and in such manners in independent claims 8 and 15 (Remarks, pages 8-11).

The prior art made of record in this Office Action, such as:

US Patent No. 6,993,472 merely discloses translation engines using linguistic annotation language in the intermediate language, which translate a source language into a target language; and

US Patent No. 7,152,222 merely discloses facilitating the translation of messages, strings, or other program resources.

However, these prior art made of record, alone or in combination, do not disclose and/or fairly suggest at least claimed limitations as noted above, and in as a whole.

These claimed limitations are not present in the prior art of and made of record and would not have been obvious, thus all pending claims 1-8 and 10-21 are allowed.
